What do Public History and Crowdsourcing have in common?

Public History describes the many and diverse ways in which history is put to work in the world, beyond the walls of academia and as it is consumed by the general public.

Crowdsourcing is the process of obtaining needed services, ideas, or content by soliciting contributions from a large group of people, and especially from an online community, rather than from traditional employees or suppliers.

Tour of The Athenæum of Philadelphia
Saturday, April 18, 2015
12PM-2PM

Join YFPA for a behind-the-scenes tour of the Athenæum building, followed by an overview of the archival collections focusing on the history & development of the Washington Square neighborhood, as well as a look into the modern architecture collection.

After the tour, we will meet at a local watering hole for libations.
